Providing Support for URI’s Student-Athletes and Programs
The Rhode Island Rams Athletic Association (RIRAA) is the official fundraising arm of the University of Rhode Island Athletic Department. Its purpose is to promote URI athletics, provide the financial support necessary to win championships, and help ensure that student-athletes receive a quality education. It also facilitates communication between boosters and the Athletic Department.

The RIRAA is made up of people like you—alumni, former student-athletes, parents, and friends of URI—all of whom are committed to the success of URI athletics.

Each year, RIRAA members make financial gifts to support scholarships and program funding. Their annual generosity, year after year, ensures that URI athletics continue to be a source of pride for the University and for the state of Rhode Island.

RIRAA fundraising is in accordance with NCAA policies, University guidelines, Alumni Association by-laws, and all applicable league and conference policies.

How Can I Make a Difference?
Your annual gift is very important. By giving as generously as you can, you help ensure the continued success of Rhody student-athletes. Gifts to the RIRAA unrestricted fund are especially important, as they are applied to areas of greatest need. If you prefer to direct your gift to a specific team or project, we are happy to allocate your gift accordingly.

What Benefits Can I Receive for My Gift?
The greatest benefit of your philanthropy is knowing that your support helps our student-athletes enjoy the best possible athletic and academic experience. In addition, RIRAA members receive annual benefits based on the amount of their gift (see chart).

Donors who contribute between July 1 and June 30 will receive benefits the following fiscal year.

What Are Priority Points and How Are They Awarded?
In addition to annual benefits, donors earn priority points, which are used to determine the order in which boosters are able to purchase season tickets for men’s and women’s basketball and for football. A gift of $150 or more is required to earn priority points. Unrestricted gifts earn two points for every $100. Gifts restricted to a specific team earn one point for every $100. If your employer matches your gift, you receive full point credit for the match. In addition, one point is awarded for each consecutive year of giving.

For more information on the priority point policy, please visit GoRhody.com/riraa.
